

Pratt Museum Receives Homer Foundation Opportunity Fund Grant

Homer, Alaska (April 5, 2024) – Pratt Museum

The Pratt Museum, which is governed by The Homer Society of Natural History, Inc., is the Recipient of a $5,000 Homer Foundation Opportunity Fund Grant

The Pratt Museum is incredibly grateful to be the recipient of a $5,000 Homer Foundation Opportunity Fund Grant. This contribution will support History + Nature Come Alive!, an expanded offering of art, culture, and science based educational programming including exciting new curricula led by experienced, highly-qualified instructors, all of whom are active members of the Homer community. Support from the Homer Foundation will also allow the Museum to recruit a summer intern, an opportunity that will encourage a lifelong understanding and exploration of the natural environment and place-based human experience, and provide the intern with exposure to impactful engagement with Pratt Museum patrons and the many facets of museum work.

“We truly appreciate the continued support of the Homer Foundation as we strive to make measurable change in the community through our program of work,” said Pratt Museum Executive Director Patricia Relay
